

DOT Temporary Relief for Transporting Hand Sanitizer Ends Soon

In support of the critical need to move hazardous material during the pandemic, the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) eased its regulations for the transportation of hand sanitizer by highway. The temporary relief will end soon, directly impacting Franke's distribution of the Bulk Hand Sanitizer which is delivered via ground shipping. It is imperative to place order to ensure timely delivery.

On May 21, BKC announced that all restaurants are required to provide guests with a hands-free sanitizing solution upon re-opening. To date, approximately 80% of restaurants have placed their orders and are in compliance with the mandate. Remaining restaurants must place their orders immediately to ensure supply and avoid shipping interruptions resulting from DOT regulations.

As a reminder, Franke is handling the order processing and shipments of the following items:

Bulk Hand Sanitizer Solution

- Four 1-gallon jugs, with 2 re-useable pumps and actuator sleeve to meter dispensed liquid amount
